

Andrew Byl

Andrew has been selling real estate for more than 25 years and often surprises himself with how much he still loves the challenges that come with being a very successful real estate salesman.

Very early in his career, Andrew knew that selling real estate was what he wanted to do. He just loved the challenges and opportunities that every day brought. This passion resulted in some very impressive sales awards including an award from the Real Estate Institute of WA for being the highest selling sales representative in Western Australia.

Andrew is a family man and, together with his wife, has been blessed with five children. While his children are now grown up, he continues to place a high value on his time within the family.

In his real estate work, Andrew believes in keeping people up to date with what's happening and strives to maintain a minimum of "once a week" contact with his clients. As he says, "In my job there is nothing more enjoyable than people being excited in their new home, or existing owners moving joyfully to their next stop in life. It should be a pleasant experience, and the feedback from some of the client's I have worked with is testament to my ability to achieve a great result whilst making the process enjoyable for you."

He would love to be of service to you whether you are buying or selling.

Having never sold a house before I was worried about the process, but Andrew Byl made the experience an easy and pleasant one. Always happy to help and assist in any way he could, he made sure everything ran smoothly. I would gladly recommend Andrew and O'Neil Real Estate to anyone and intend to use them again myself. Thank you again for all your help. It is such a relief – you have no idea! You did a brilliant job in, shall we say awkward, circumstances.
